When people are in distressful circumstances, they are often more open to receive compassionate assistance. When they experience this kind of loving care from Christians, embracing the new life Jesus gives can be a supernatural result. In this edition of By Prayer, hope comes through physical care to those with HIV/AIDS and those who wander as nomads and migrants, jobs for those who need skills, sports for youth who need direction and discipline, companionship for lonely students in foreign countries, and more. Thank you for strengthening and multiplying the effectiveness of many compassionate workers who reflect Jesus’ care to those who need Him, by prayer.

The grand opening of the New Life Center came in September; two years after H received a calling to start an outreach to kids with special needs. God led her to open her home to these kids who are often hidden away, not able to go to school or get therapy. Now they come to the center all day, four days a week, where they are fed, bathed, and have teeth brushed. We hug them, and they play and laugh. Some learn to read and write. Ministry Focus
SIM WORKER, SOUTH ASIA
Last year, our ladies and children gathered for three days of study and recreation. Two mature sisters, converts from a major world religion, taught a study in discipleship called “God’s Heart, My Heart.” The session about forgiveness brought deep discussion, as forgiveness is such a hard concept in an honor/shame culture. One lady, who knew great shame and pain and thought she could never forgive, realized she needed to forgive. We also enjoyed games, exercise and talent night. Pray the lessons learned will bear fruit and strengthen the faith of these women and children.

Ministry Focus
SIM WORKER
God is at work! Our business employs over 100 local people, mostly non-believers. We use biblical values and teachings with them, and they are free to ask what it means to be a disciple of Jesus, or other questions. In the day-to-day work and on special days, we answer these questions sharing openly, often praying with them and their families. Last year they studiously presented a skit depicting Jesus’ death on the cross. They said, “You have taught us these truths, so we want to show others.” Pray for continued learning and response to the gospel.
